

The Red Chair (Modern Plays)

Let us tell you a strange tale that did unfold someplace in the glum north othe world, where there lived a Man who could not stop eating, a Woman doomed to cook his meals and one invesible child.Told in a rich and saucy Scots dialect with physical verve, a wee dram of whisky to oil the way and a musical score that rolls in like mist over the hills, The Red Chair sees acclaimed Scottish performer Sarah Cameron steer us through a landscape of twisted reason, extreme compulsion and eye-watering complacency, where domestic drudgery happens on an operatic scale and a fathers dereliction of duty reaches epic proportions.The Red Chair is based on Sarahs original book that had its first public reading as part of The House of Fairytales at the Port Eliot Festival. It lies somewhere between a Grimms Tale, an absurdist ghost story and a parents guide on how not to bring up children.
