

We Never Made it to Paris

National finalist in the Saints and Sinners Playwriting Competition. We Never Made it to Paris is a creative fusion of language, music, movement, dance, photography, and light. The story spans over the course of eighteen years in the lives of two men: Eros, a former model, and Bird, a former actor. Fearing real love doesn't exist, Bird sabotages their young affair, only to realize years later they are soul mates. This play received a world premiere at the Producers Club in New York City.

Parisians entered the First World War (1914-1918) in August 1914 on a wave of patriotic fervor, socialists who opposed the war, but, in the face of little opposition to the war, the arrests were never carried out. Fearing a long siege, General Gallieni did what he could to reduce the number of Parisians who needed to be.
